Colorado's Senate and House Vote for U. S. Senator.

Hon. E. O. Wolcott Declared the Choice of Each.

Delaware's Legislature Elects a Republican Senator.

Frye and Manderson Elected in Maine and Nebraska.

Colorado Legislature.

DENVER, January 15.—The fortieth day of the legislative session today was the occasion of an United States senator to succeed Hon. T. M. Bowen. The leaders of the house and senate were on hand to see carried up to the moon recess with those anxious to witness the proceedings and the chance of session.

SENATE.

After disposing of the journal, reports of the committees were received which were followed by the introduction of a number of bills, all of which were referred to the proper committees. The senate resolved itself into committee of the whole, Botts in the chair. Senate bill No. 1, a bill to regulate the issuance of licenses, was then read. This is the bill known as the high license bill.

Senator Wilson moved that February 5th be fixed as the day for consideration of the bill.

S. B. No. 8, "Regulating the notices of sales under trust deeds, was next brought up, and after considerable debate referred to the committee on revision.

Christen moved that the senate proceed to ballot for United States senator, and Carpenter took the floor to put in nomination Hon. E. O. Wolcott. Senator Ballard put in nomination Hon. Chas. S. Thomas.

Vote was taken with the following result:

For Wolcott—Senators Abbott, Bailey, Beckwith, Botts, Carpenter, Christen, Cochrane, Gardner, Gelder, Harkinson, Porter, McCandless, McCreery, Newell, Noble, Oliver, Weiser, Wells and Whitely—17.

For Thomas—Senators Adams, Banks, Ballard, Kinkaid and Poole—6. Senator Wilson was not present.

The lieutenant governor announced that the vote stood: Wolcott 19, Thomas 6. He then declared Edward O. Wolcott to be the choice of the senate of Colorado for United States senator.

Recess was then taken to 2 o'clock.

During the afternoon session the senate was in committee of the whole most of the time. Several measures were considered, but of very little interest. Adjourned to to-morrow.

HOUSE.

After listening to reading of the journal of yesterday, the house disposed of routine business, such as receiving reports of committees, introduction of bills, etc., none of which were of any special importance, and proceeded to election of United States senator. The roll call is filed.

For Wolcott—Armitage, Baldwin, Belinger, Bartholomew, Brophy, Budd, Cable, Chatfield, Clark of Jefferson, Copeland, Cranston, Davidson, Dunbar, Ebert, Feldhausen, Ford, Grafton, Griswold, Harris, Hastings, Heffernan, Hicks, Hurlburt, Kellogg, Kettle, King, Libby, Merry, Metcalf, Mitchell, Merrick, Parish, Phillips, Price, Prince, Purcell, Read, Sanchez, Shaw, Sperry, Vigil, Wilson and Mr. Speaker—43.

For Thomas—Clark of Elbert, Hatchet, O'Brien, Swift, Valdez and Wootton—6.

The chair said: E. O. Wolcott has received 43 votes and Charles S. Thomas 6 votes. Hon. E. O. Wolcott having received a majority of all votes cast, he is declared the choice of this house for senator in the United States congress for the full term of six years, beginning the 4th day of March.

Several bills were introduced during the afternoon and a resolution adopted for both houses to meet in joint session this a. m. and ratify their action of today on the senatorial question.

Adjourned to to-morrow.

Delaware's Senator.

DOVER, January 15.—Anthony Higgins, of Wilmington, was nominated U. S. senator on the 14th ballot in the republican caucus at 3:30 a. m. Vote: Higgins 9, Massey 6.

At 5:45 the house balloted for U. S. senator. Fourteen republican members voted for Anthony Higgins for senator, for Alfred P. Robinson and two for Walcott, in consequence of the inability of the democratic caucus to agree upon a candidate. The senate balloted at 12:15. Seven democratic members voted for Walcott, two republicans for Higgins. This makes the vote of both houses stand: Higgins 16, Walcott 9, Robinson 5.

Senator Frye Re-elected.

AUGUSTA, Me., January 15.—At noon both houses of the legislature voted for United States senator. Frye had a majority of both houses, and will be declared re-elected in joint session to-morrow.

Another letter written by the Empress Carlotta to Count Vera Cruz January 18th 1866, refers to her departure for Europe, expresses confidence that the empire will be all right when Napoleon withdraws his troops verbally. The letter also implies faith in the support of the Pope.

Inter-state Commerce.

ALBANY, N. Y., January 15.—Chairman Cooley of the inter-state commission spoke at the annual meeting of the state law association to-night on the subject, "Comparative merits of the written and unwritten constitutions." Referring to the matter of inter-state commerce, he says in substance that it may be that by and by the federal legislature, surveying the field of inter-state commerce and taking note of how state commerce may be [illegible] and intermingles with it, will come to the conclusion that separate legislation of state [illegible] is [illegible] necessity, to some extent at least, be incompatible with complete federal regulation of commerce that is inter-state, and should that conclusion be reached federal legislature is not unlikely to take to itself complete regulation of the whole. If it does so it will be but an another of the illustrations in history which shows how vast is the edifice which may rightfully be erected within the bounds of a single federal power which at first seemed of little importance.

The Inter-state Case.

NEW YORK, January 15.—Private dispatches from Berlin report the [illegible] dead. It is [illegible] that King William is dying. The utmost anxiety is felt among the Luxemburg succession, which will naturally devolve upon Adolph, Duke of Nassau but which it is suspected the king of Prussia may appropriate on the ground of ancient claims to the Orange heirship which the kings of Prussia have asserted up to the time of the pragmatic sanction.

Event of Cleveland had a long private interview with the president elect. He says [illegible] was not of a political [illegible] but was simply [illegible] that it was [illegible] that could not be learned that Event was acting in any particular [illegible] as a cabinet possibility. He is known, however, to be an ardent supporter of ex-Senator Platt.

[illegible]

WASHINGTON, January 15.—After [illegible] business of minor importance the senate resumed consideration of the [illegible] the [illegible] question being on Voorhees' motion to strike from the [illegible] Mills' [illegible] [illegible] commerce and taking note of how [illegible] may be [illegible] and intermingles with it, will come to the conclusion that separate legislation of state [illegible] is necessary, to some extent at least, be incompatible with complete federal regulation of commerce that is inter-state, and should that conclusion be reached federal legislature is not unlikely to take to itself complete regulation of the whole. If it does so it will be but another of the illustrations in history which shows how vast is the edifice which may rightfully be erected within the bounds of a single federal power which at first seemed of little importance.

Voorhees spoke briefly in favor of the amendment, which, he said, the secretary from Missouri (Vest) enthusiastically approved and which he (Voorhees) would support entirely with reference to the question of duty on sugar.

Vest asked him to wait until he reached that schedule.

In the course of a discussion as to the question whether tariff duties were paid by the consumer, Vest said: I have not gone to the extent of saying that every cent of tariff duty is added to the price to the consumer. I think the speaker stated that a [illegible] necessarily increased the price [illegible] tariff is [illegible] Beef [illegible] [illegible] a [illegible] duty affects [illegible] the consumer, [illegible] to the amount of production in the United States.

The discussion then drifted into a political one, the results of the election in New York and the matter of taxing whisky being talked of in a desultory way. After [illegible] one hour [illegible] the bill was [illegible] without a vote on the [illegible] and [illegible] after executive session the senate adjourned.

HOUSE.

Springer of Illinois called up a resolution under the senate bill for the admission of South Dakota and the [illegible] division of the territory of North Dakota. The bill having been read in full, Springer took the floor in explanation of the measure and advocacy of the substitute "omnibus bill" which he proposed to offer at the "proper time." He premised his remarks with the statement that he would endeavor to secure a vote to-day.

He called attention to various provisions of the constitution of 1885, which, he contended, bore marks of having been formulated hastily, and argued that they presented another reason why a new convention should be held.

Cox, of New York, was in favor of the omnibus bill with certain amendments, but he was willing to help along any little conference between the two houses of congress which would result in relieving the territory into the rank of statehood. Every territory except Utah should be admitted into the union when it had a population sufficient under the law to elect a member of congress.

Gifford, of Dakota, defended the constitution adopted by the constitutional convention of Dakota from the criticisms advanced against it by Springer.

Toole, of Montana, expressed a wish to extend the admission of Montana and to weigh as they [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] entirely subject on the question of duty on sugar.

Pending further debate the house adjourned.

The Presidents' Agreement.

CHICAGO, January 15.—The presidents' agreement on which it was proposed to organize an inter-state [illegible] association, has been [illegible] [illegible] form. The plan as [illegible] provides for a chairman but no vice-chairman. It was originally intended that there should be two vice-chairmen to have charge of the freight and passenger departments respectively, but the duties of these offices will be [illegible] upon the chairman, who will confine his [illegible] executive. The executive board will consist of [illegible] and [illegible] [illegible] as at last agreed, and the executive power will be in the hands of a committee. Another amendment is the omission of the clause providing that subordinate officers shall be discharged for cutting rates; it shall not be employed by any road in the association. It is expected that a meeting will be called next week.

The Parnell Inquiry.

LONDON, January 15.—The Parnell commission resumed its sittings. Sir Charles Russell, counsel for the Parnellites applied for an order against the Worcester Times [illegible] [illegible] the commission. Presiding Justice Hannen said he regretted [illegible] application of this character which could [illegible] duress to the [illegible] of the press of the country. He [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] O'Brien [illegible] [illegible] under conditions stated. He accepted responsibility for the article on United Ireland for which [illegible] [illegible] He denied that he intended [illegible] to the court and declared any imputation that the judges were [illegible] being the duty. The court received [illegible]

O'Brien said he did not [illegible] question his lordship's rulings [illegible] that he had a right to comment upon scandalous evidence being given before the commission. He continued: We are most anxious to meet the charges

A rich variety is promised in the entertainment to be given at the First Baptist church Thursday, January 17th, at 8 o'clock p. m. Among the attractive features of the evening will be selections by Barnes' orchestra and vocal solos by Prof. D H Seymour. The Blind Boys will also have a place upon the programme.

The frequent and prolonged applause with which the efforts of the Boston symphony Orchestral club were greeted at the opera house last night is the best of testimony to the excellence of the music which they gave The delighted audience will remember the concert as one of the best ever given in this city Miss Elva Clark Cassine the [illegible] soprano, is a vocalist of much merit. Her voice is rich and strong, in rendering the "Jewel Song" from Faust, "Ma Bel' Wie" Eine Blume," "I Have Nothing [illegible] to Tell You," and responses to long and loud applause, sang Streletzky's "Dreams." Mr. Willis Nowell is one of the best of the club; and his finish he has few equals. His rendering of the "Fantasie" by Faust by Saraste was heartily applauded Adolph Barosi, the world renowned flute virtuoso, played a solo which was nearly perfect Every member of the club is an artist and the concert left but little to wish for. H. W. STEELE,
Editor and Manager of the Gazette.

Messrs. Longmans Green & Co are about to follow Mr. Besant's "Eulogy of Richard Jefferies" with a volume of Jefferies' uncollected papers under the apt title of "Field and Hedgerow," in which will appear the latest essays of the Englishman who best continued the tradition of Wilfte of Selborne. Among the subjects are "Heart of Spring," "The Makers of Summer," and "Time of Year," which are treated with the same pathy and the knowledge that lead a critic to call Jefferies "the English Thoreau."

Every day the announcement is made that General Harrison has selected another member of his cabinet. According to the press of the country the president-elect has decided on something over one hundred men for portfolios in a cabinet composed of seven members, and after all these announcements by an enterprising press General Harrison upsets everything by saying: "I have not yet finally decided upon a single man. I have thought at times in my mind that I had, but at other times I have been certain that I had not. When I send the names of my cabinet to the senate they will be known, and they will not be known until then."

We begin to hear from the east regarding the New Year's GAZETTE. Many private letters have been received, all of which speak in the highest terms of the illustrations and the evidence of the growth of the city. The work of Messrs. Parrish and Lent seems to be very highly appreciated. The character of the work was much finer than has ever appeared in any daily paper in the west, and it has attracted great attention wherever it is seen. The Boston Herald, which has a daily circulation of over a hundred thousand copies and has a half million daily readers, under the heading of "Enterprise in Colorado," contains the following in its issue of January 10th:

The New Year's edition of the Colorado Springs GAZETTE contains a supplement of three sheets of fine illustrations, in color, of the public buildings, private residences and parks of Colorado Springs and the neighboring cities. Many of the buildings are commodious and handsome, and the engravings of them would do credit to any paper. The GAZETTE states that nearly $700,000 had been spent in building improvements during the year, and that the postoffice receipts showed a gain of 20 per cent over those of 1887 and 50 per cent over 1886.

The New York Sun thinks that the secretaryship of the treasury ought to go to the state which has the most interest in the management of the treasury department. This seems very plausible. But it is equally plausible to say that the secretaryship of the treasury ought to go to that state which offers the man best fitted for the position. The fact is the business interests of New York have very little to say about politics. The politicians select the man that they want in the cabinet, and it is usually the man that can be used. For that reason he is no more a representative of the business interests of New York than a man might be who is taken from a purely agricultural district. It is rather a significant fact that the men who have made the greatest reputation in the treasury department since the republican party came into power have been men outside of New York. The four men who made the greatest impression were Chase and Sherman, of Ohio, Fessenden of Maine, and Bristow of Kentucky. Besides these, there were Boutwell and Richardson, of Massachusetts; McCullough and Gresham, of Indiana; Morrill, of Maine, and Windom, of Minnesota. Only one has been appointed from New York by the republican administration, and that was Mr Folger, who was not a business man in any sense of the word. He was a lawyer and had passed most of his life on the bench. Cleveland appoints both of his secretaries of the treasury from New York and they both may be said to have been fairly successful. Neither has gained, however, the reputation that Chase and Sherman gained. The secretary of the treasury does not belong to any part of the country. He should be a man who is national in his reputation and in his sympathies. Neither Wall street nor the western granger has any right to be represented exclusively of the other.

Carrying the Mails.

The largest single item in the postal expense account of the national government is that for the transportation of the mails on the various railways throughout the country. Over $5,000,000 is annually appropriated for this purpose. The system under which the compensation of the various railways for carrying the mails is fixed is one involving many details, and as the rate of payment is fixed for four years at a time, the proper expenditure of over $70,000,000 of the public money depends on the accuracy with which the system is carried out.

All the mail matter carried over the various railroads for thirty or sixty days is actually weighed once in four years, and payments are made to the railroad companies on the theory that the average amount of mail matter on all the days of the four years' term will be the same as the daily average for the one month or two months when the amount is accurately ascertained.—New York Tribune.

The Elks Denounced.

GRAND FALLS N. Y., January 15.—Father McDermott Catholic priest, created a sensation Sunday by preaching a sermon denouncing the order of Elks and calling on all his parishioners who are members to resign.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES.

Don Roberts wife Agnes Robertson has been granted a divorce.

The old Santa Monica hotel at Santa Monica Cal. burned Monday night. Loss $70,000.

The Atchison railroad will probably resolve not to declare the usual quarterly dividend.

The senate yesterday confirmed the nomination of Walter N. Newberry to be postmaster at Chicago.

Directors of the Central Pacific Railroad company yesterday declared a semi-annual dividend of one per cent.

Peter Bescaren made a short speech yesterday and the facts taken to the governor on his part to avoid shows a England.

Dr. Kaye, a citizen of Muncie Ind. was robbed by an unknown robber and his residence.

Sale of the gunpowder under forfeiture took place yesterday. It was bid in for the Santa Cruz Powder company of New York. Price $1,625,000.

A petition has been forwarded to Philadelphia to secure recognition of the so called Carbajal bonds, of which $12,000,000 are in existence. The Mexican secretary of the interior says those bonds will not be recognized.

Stock Market.

NEW YORK, January 15.—The stock market was active and lower throughout the day with less aim to speculation the result being a decline, which while not marked was general. Announcement of passage of the Aldrich bill developed that a point and a half. Other stocks fluctuated within the narrowest limit, and some improvement was shown at the second. The market finally closed quiet, generally firm, at something better than the lowest figures. Government is steady.
